

Habitat for Humanity of Greater Orlando Receives Donation from Whole Foods Market

Orlando, Fla (March 9, 2016) – Habitat for Humanity of Greater Orlando recently received more than $9,000 in donations from Whole Foods Market, as part of the grocery store's "5% Day." On the date of the event, five percent of the day's net sales from the Winter Park and Phillips Crossing locations were donated to Habitat Greater Orlando.

"Our community support days are a great way for us to give back," said Vicky Santamaria, Marketing Associate for Whole Foods Market. "In addition to a monetary donation, we provide beneficiaries the opportunity to host informational sessions at the store, giving them a platform to spread awareness about their important cause. This year we also had the opportunity to volunteer with Habitat, building homes for hardworking families."

The funds raised during the 5% give back day will allow Habitat Greater Orlando to continue to provide affordable homeownership opportunities for people in need.

"Whole Foods Market has been a generous partner over the years," said Catherine Steck McManus, President and CEO of Habitat for Humanity of Greater Orlando. "We look forward to continuing to work together in our efforts to address the need for affordable housing in our community."

About Habitat for Humanity of Greater Orlando

Habitat Greater Orlando partners with people in the community to build or improve homes. Habitat homeowners help build their own homes alongside volunteers, and pay an affordable mortgage. The program assists Habitat homeowners to achieve the strength, stability and independence they need to build a better life for themselves and for their families.

Habitat Greater Orlando is one of approximately 2,100 local affiliates of Habitat for Humanity International. Support from sponsors, donors and volunteers directly benefit the Central Florida community.
