

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY OF GREATER ORLANDO WELCOMES NEW BOARD MEMBERS

ORLANDO, Fla. (August 12, 2016) – Habitat for Humanity of Greater Orlando recently appointed three new members to its board of directors.

- Janice Abrew-Coriano, communications, events and community affairs manager, Rosen Hotels and Resorts
- Frank Jameson, senior vice president, Wells Fargo
- Latria Leak, assistant director of community relations and cause marketing, Orlando Magic, Ltd.

“We’re so excited to welcome Janice, Frank and Latria to our board of directors,” said Catherine Steck McManus, president and CEO of Habitat for Humanity of Greater Orlando. “Their combined experience, both in their respective fields and as community leaders, will be a tremendous asset to our organization as we look to developing a long-term strategic plan for Habitat Greater Orlando.”

Abrew-Coriano is a longtime supporter of Habitat Greater Orlando, having helped organize volunteer groups and participating in several home dedications. She was most recently involved as a member of the Women Build committee in 2015. Abrew-Coriano earned a Bachelor’s in Public Relations with a concentration in travel and tourism from the University of Florida.

Jameson has held several leadership positions with Habitat for Humanity, most recently as a board member for the affiliate in Tallahassee. He earned a Bachelor of Science in Finance from Florida State University.

Leak has been involved with Habitat Greater Orlando for nearly five years, working to engage the Orlando Magic through volunteerism and financial contributions. To date, the Orlando Magic has sponsored seven homes and worked on countless others. Leak earned her Master’s in Communication Management from Webster University, and her Bachelor’s in Telecommunication News from the University of Florida.

About Habitat for Humanity of Greater Orlando

Habitat Greater Orlando partners with people in the community to build or improve homes. Habitat homeowners help build their own homes alongside volunteers, and pay an affordable mortgage. The program assists Habitat homeowners to achieve the strength, stability and independence they need to build a better life for themselves and for their families.

Habitat Greater Orlando is one of approximately 2,100 local affiliates of Habitat for Humanity International. Support from sponsors, donors and volunteers directly benefit the Central Florida community.
